

NO DEVELOPMENTS IN EATON MYSTERY

Police Are Said to Be Ready to Make an Arrest Within Few Hours.

DAUGHTERS KEPT APART

Their Stories Will Be Pitted Against Each Other at Inquest.

Boston, March 16.—With the inquest adjourned over Sunday, developments in the mystery surrounding the death of Rear-Admiral Joseph G. Eaton were practically nothing to-day. District Attorney Barker visited the Eaton home again, but refused to discuss the purpose of his visit.

During the proceedings of the inquest yesterday Mrs. June Keyes and Miss Dorothy Ainsworth, the two daughters of Mrs. Eaton, were kept apart. Their two stories will be pitted against each other at the inquest.

Following the testimony of the two girls and the authorities, it is said that Mrs. Eaton will be summoned to the stand to tell her side of the story. Yesterday, owing to her prostrate condition over the publicity of the case, she was unable to make the journey to Hingham.

The police are ready, it is understood, to make an arrest.

The story that chloral was the poison found in the organs of the admiral is refuted by a person closely connected with the case, who declares that there were no symptoms of chloral poisoning present.

Official Notice Taken.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Washington, March 16.—Official recognition of the death of Rear-Admiral Joseph G. Eaton has been taken by the Navy Department through the act of the Surgeon-General, C. F. Stokes, who has asked Commandant DeWitt Coffman, at the Charleston Navy-Yard, for a full report of the case. This will include the certificate of death given by the attending physician.

The Navy Department has not taken official notice yet of the statement made by a member of the family of Admiral Eaton that the commandant of the navy-yard had promised to appear at the Eaton funeral, but failed to do so.

Rear-Admiral Philip Andrews, in charge of personnel at the Navy Department, said to-day that there was no record at the Navy Department of a request for a naval representation at the funeral.

Curious Crowd at Residence.
Norwell, Mass., March 16.—Deputy Sheriff Condon and State Officer Scott visited the house of the late Rear-Admiral Eaton to-day and conferred for some time with members of the family. The officers later declined to discuss the visit.

Crowds of the curious gathered about the house to-day. Chief of Police Walter T. Osborne, who was stationed there, said he was on duty at the suggestion of State Officer Scott. He would not say whether or not he was there to save the family from annoyance by the public.

Mrs. Eaton, widow of the admiral, who has been ill since the death of her husband, was said to-day to be much better. She is expected to be able to attend the inquest.

WOMEN PELTED WITH CLODS BY JEERING CROWD

(Continued from First Page.)
The meeting was broken up, although the crowd did not attempt any violence. The people who had assembled satisfied themselves with drowning the women's speeches by shouting, singing and booing. The police finally had to order the women away.

Latest Suffragist Outrage.
[Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.]
London, March 16.—It is difficult to find a reason for the latest suffrage outrage which was discovered this morning. A newly built house at Ocean, Surrey, worth $8,000, and the property of a private citizen named Dennett, was destroyed by fire as a result of a piece of wicker furniture. Copies of suffragist newspapers and other evidence was found near the burning building, all of which indicate that arson is a part of the women's campaign for votes. The house is a short distance from Walton Heath, where the recent attempt to blow up David Lloyd George's villa was made by the suffragettes.

WAGE BOARD PROPOSED

Feature of Bill Which Will Be Introduced by Progressives.
Albany, N. Y., March 16.—Provisions for a minimum wage board for New York State, are contained in bills which members of the Progressive party plan to introduce in the Legislature to-morrow. The measure would provide for a State minimum wage board of five members, authorized to appoint local wage boards for any industry or locality where wages seem below the living standard. The local board would be empowered to investigate, recommend and report to the State board, which, after a public hearing,

GOWANS

King of Externals

Sells itself wherever introduced. Imitators have tried to imitate, and substitution has been attempted. But once GOWANS always Gowans for inflammation and congestion.

It gives us pleasure to recommend Gowans Preparation for inflammation, especially of the throat and chest. We have sold Gowans Preparation for many years and never had a complaint.

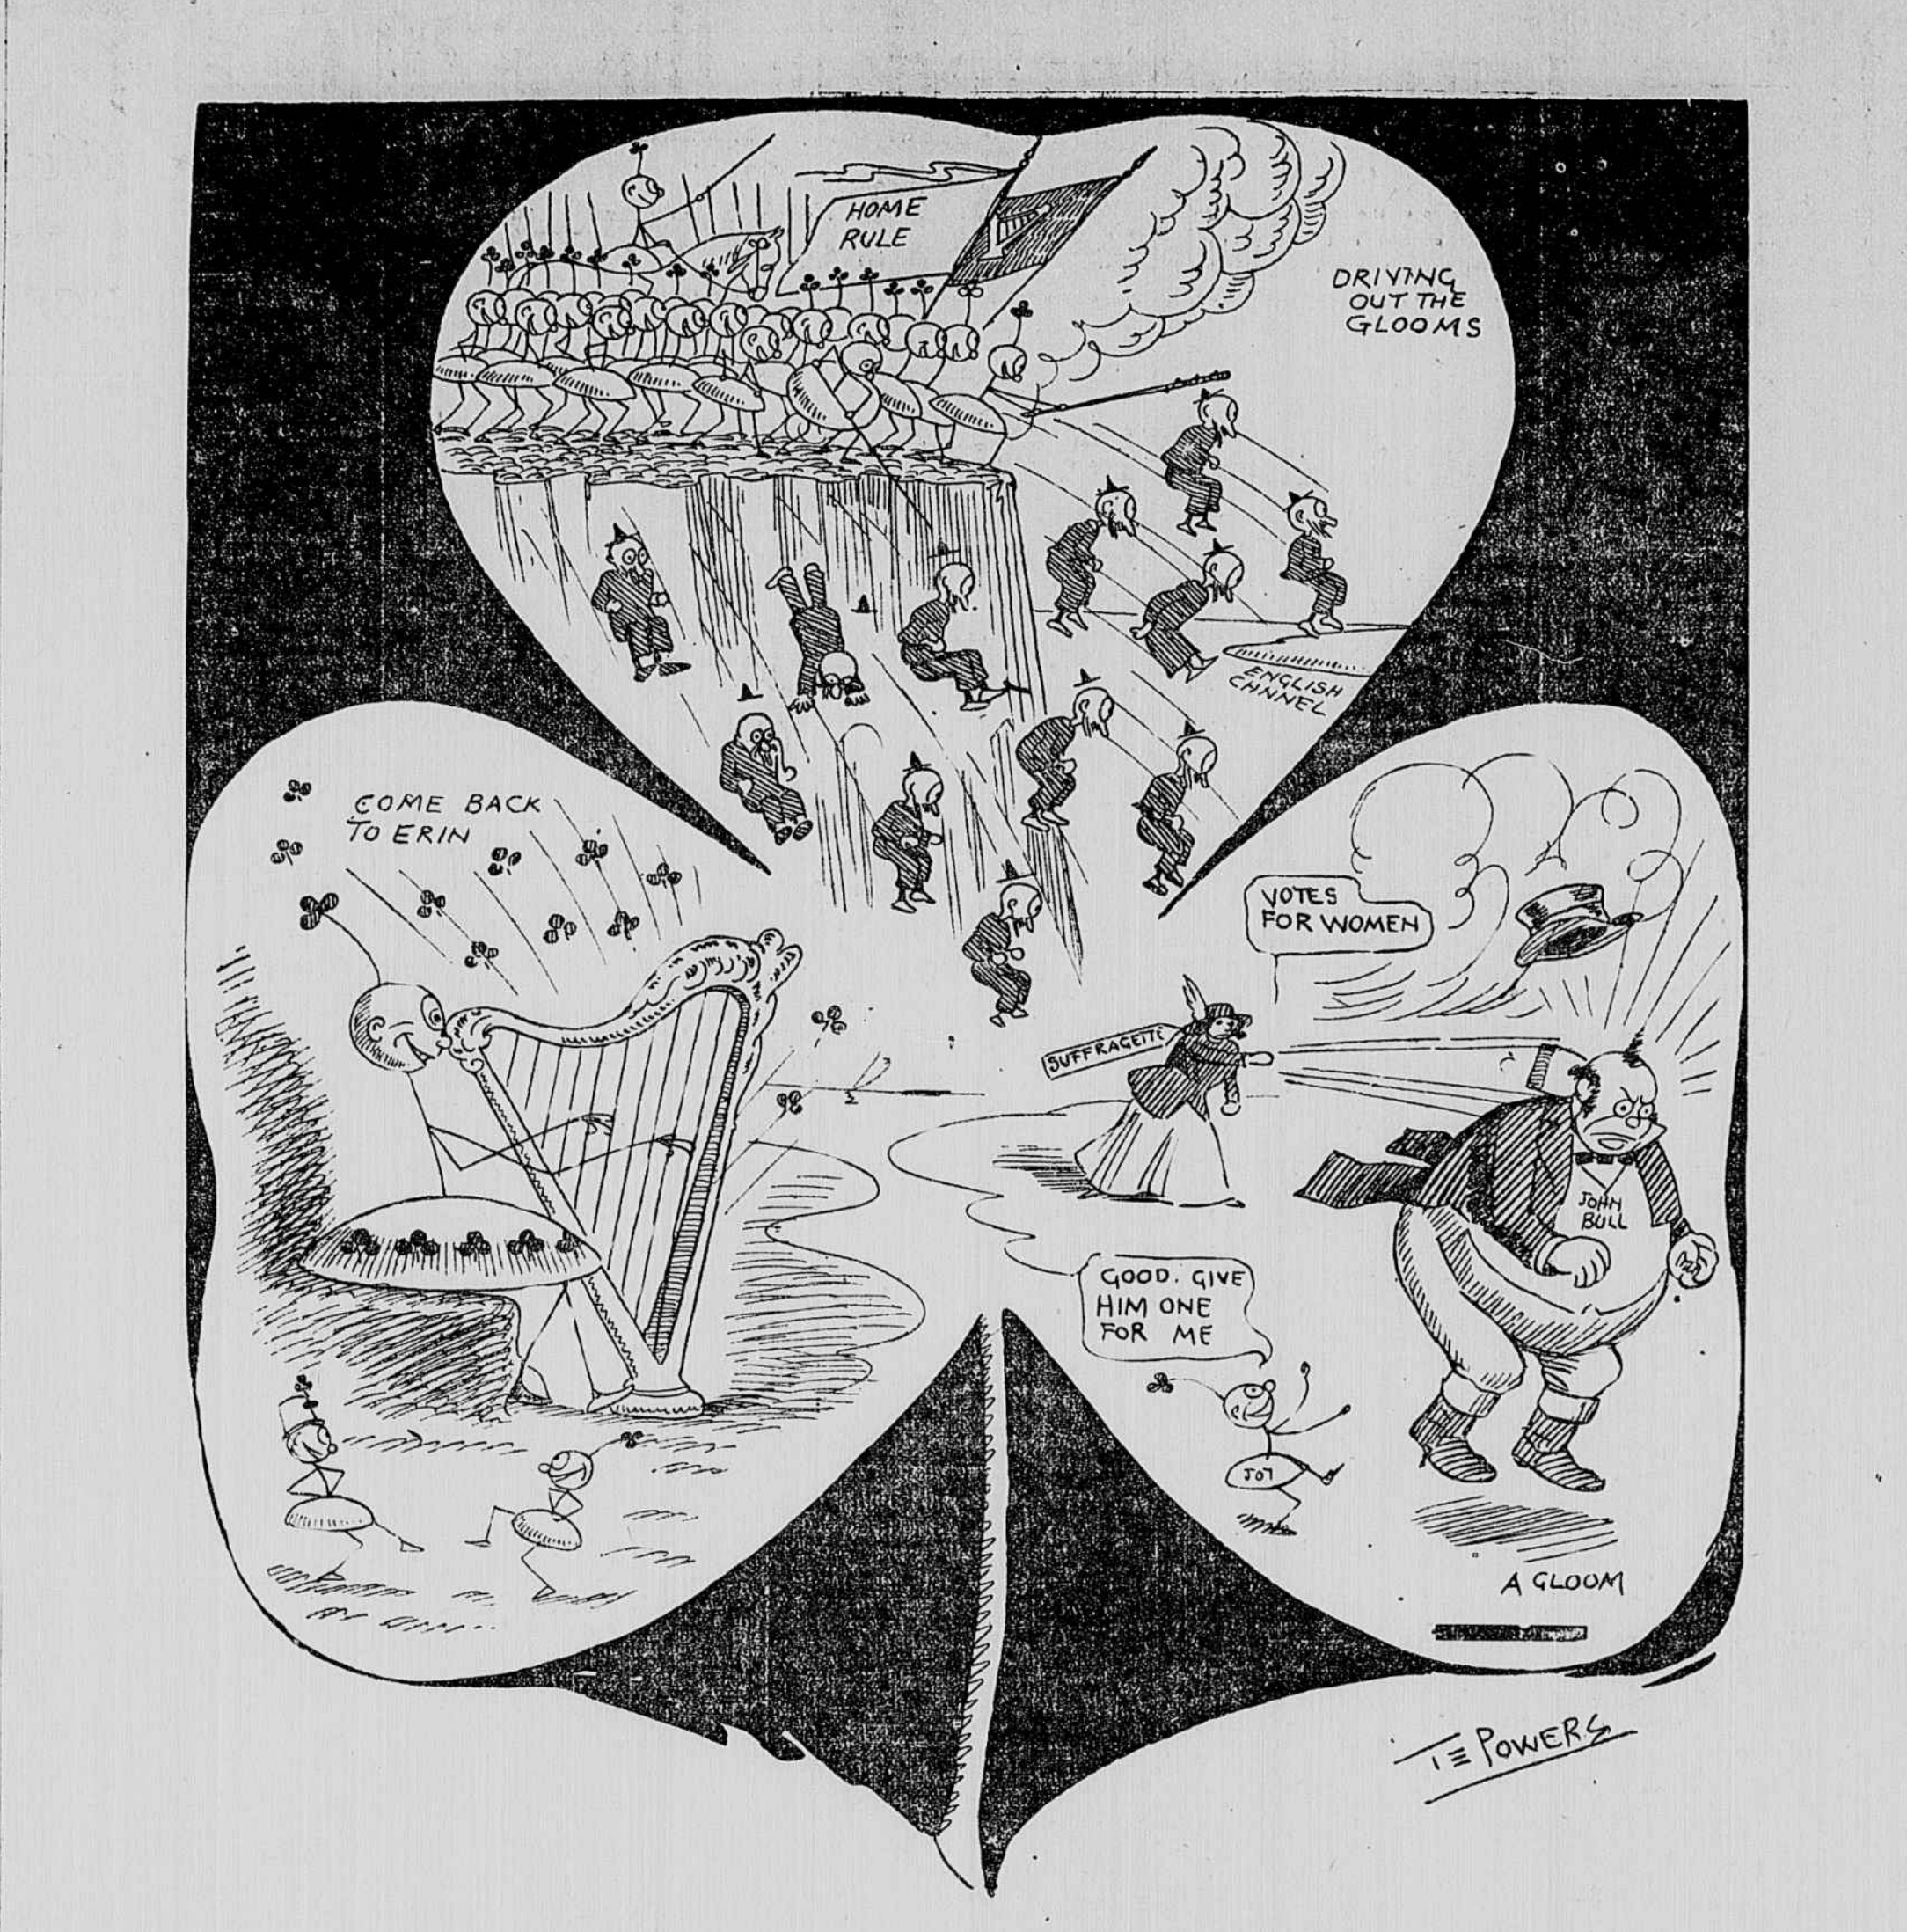

BURLINGTON DRUG CO.
Burlington, N. C.

BUY TO-DAY! HAVE IT IN THE HOME

All Druggists. 51c, 50c, 25c.
GOWAN MEDICINE CONCERN, N. C.

Guaranteed, and money refunded if your druggist

JOYS AND GLOOMS

WOMEN GROWING LESS FRIVOLOUS

Baroness De Meyer Can See Improvement in Female of American Species.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
New York, March 16.—The Baroness de Meyer, who is touring the United States with her husband, expressed the opinion to-day that American women are becoming less frivolous and that the former insatiable desire for pleasure and excitement is giving way to the desire for entertainment that is both instructive and pleasant. The baroness is the daughter of Prince Caracciolo, of Rome, and the god-daughter of King Edward VII.

"The general opinion abroad about the American woman," said the baroness, "is that she is intelligent, but not intellectual. It would be a splendid idea, a great blessing, to both America and Europe, if some American women would go over there and lecture and tell us something about the real life in America, especially those among us who are not so fortunate as to be able to come and look for ourselves."

"If some American woman, whose position entitles her to speak about the real American society, would go to Paris and London and talk on the subject of America, she would be a huge success. But, for goodness sake, send us real Americans. When I say send us real Americans, I say so advisedly. A great many of the barbaric impressions we Europeans have about this country have been given us by the detrimental criticisms of Americans themselves."

"Many Americans, especially women, think that they must attack everything that is American and praise all that is foreign as soon as they come to the other side. They think that it proves their culture. They try to create the impression that they are Americans only by name."

"Paris is full of Americans who have a grudge against their country, for some reason or other, and they condemn it whenever they have a chance. They think they make themselves popular in that way, but they only make themselves absurd."

"If I were asked to what the singular prosperity and growing strength of this country ought mainly to be attributed, I should unhesitatingly answer, 'To the superiority of their women.'"

WRONG IMPRESSION ABROAD

Thinks It Should Be Corrected by One Entitled to Speak for Real Society.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
New York, March 16.—The Baroness de Meyer, who is touring the United States with her husband, expressed the opinion to-day that American women are becoming less frivolous and that the former insatiable desire for pleasure and excitement is giving way to the desire for entertainment that is both instructive and pleasant. The baroness is the daughter of Prince Caracciolo, of Rome, and the god-daughter of King Edward VII.

"The general opinion abroad about the American woman," said the baroness, "is that she is intelligent, but not intellectual. It would be a splendid idea, a great blessing, to both America and Europe, if some American women would go over there and lecture and tell us something about the real life in America, especially those among us who are not so fortunate as to be able to come and look for ourselves."

"If some American woman, whose position entitles her to speak about the real American society, would go to Paris and London and talk on the subject of America, she would be a huge success. But, for goodness sake, send us real Americans. When I say send us real Americans, I say so advisedly. A great many of the barbaric impressions we Europeans have about this country have been given us by the detrimental criticisms of Americans themselves."

"Many Americans, especially women, think that they must attack everything that is American and praise all that is foreign as soon as they come to the other side. They think that it proves their culture. They try to create the impression that they are Americans only by name."

"Paris is full of Americans who have a grudge against their country, for some reason or other, and they condemn it whenever they have a chance. They think they make themselves popular in that way, but they only make themselves absurd."

"If I were asked to what the singular prosperity and growing strength of this country ought mainly to be attributed, I should unhesitatingly answer, 'To the superiority of their women.'"

Gold Medal, London, 1911

Largest Size High-Grade Tea in World

The best of tea—from the best of land—for the best of drinkers.

In Sealed, Air-Tight Pkg.

All High-Class Grocers

Order Trial Package TO-DAY!

(509)

Ridgways TEA

WEATHER BRINGS MORE ACTIVITY

With Opening of Spring War in Balkans Grows Fiercer.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
London, March 16.—There is no prospect of the acceptance by Turkey of the peace terms as proposed by the allies. Disputes from Constantinople to-night say that the leading members of the Committee of Union and Progress have decided that the conditions could not be accepted, and it is understood that the council of ministers has adopted the same view.

At other capitals and among the ambassadors in London, the allies' demands are considered extravagant, especially in regard to the payment of indemnity and the cession of Scutari and the Aegean Islands. In the meantime, agitation against Bulgaria continues in Greece. The Greeks in Thracian and Eastern Macedonia have sent a petition to Athens against their incorporation by Bulgaria. Premier Venizelos, in reply, boldly declared that he long ago had notified the allies that Greece laid no claim to Thracian.

A dispatch from Belgrade says that the anti-Bulgarian articles are also becoming common in the Serbian newspapers, while the Greek and Serbian cabinets are becoming very intimate, and it is reported that they have already concluded a defensive treaty.

London, March 16.—With the improvement in weather conditions the armies in the near East have become more active, although thus far no news of a pitched battle of any importance has come through.

According to official reports issued at Sofia both the Bulgarians and Turks at Tchatalja have been moving, and reconnoitering parties have been in skirmishes.

The same day the Turks advanced toward Kadikoi, but were repulsed. According to Constantinople reports, conditions in the Gallipoli Peninsula are quiet. An engagement in the Thracian district is reported, the Turkish warships bombarding the Bulgarian positions at Silivri, but with what result is not known.

Late advices say the Montenegrin siege guns have commenced a fierce bombardment of Scutari, a portion of which is in flames.

The Greeks continue to gather in stray bodies of Turks. Near Arantzia the Greek cavalry captured two Turkish battalions comprising 1,570 men and officers.

SCUTARI IS IN FLAMES

Many Minor Engagements Fought, With Allies Usually Victors.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
London, March 16.—Lina Cavalieri says she is not going to marry Muraire, either in Detroit or elsewhere.

"We are good comrades, nothing more," she said this afternoon. "We were engaged together for this tour, and are therefore traveling companions through America, that is all."

Madame Cavalieri was so ill that her performance last night was cancelled. She had recovered enough this afternoon to receive reporters, who wanted to know the truth of the story that "Rob" Chanler, her former husband, was going to have a successor.

Muraire, the French tenor, who was present, added emphasis to the denial.

Stiff Neck

For any stiffness or lameness Sloan's Liniment gives relief at once. It acts like massage—quickness the blood and limbers up lame muscles and joints.

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

is good for any kind of pain.

I had a severe pain between my shoulder and neck, and nothing but Sloan's Liniment relieved me. I got a bottle which quickly relieved me.—H. D. BURGOYNE, Mayville, Kentucky.

All dealers. Price 50c, 25c, & 10c.

Dr. Earl S. Sloan - Boston, Mass.

WOMEN GROWING LESS FRIVOLOUS

Baroness De Meyer Can See Improvement in Female of American Species.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
New York, March 16.—The Baroness de Meyer, who is touring the United States with her husband, expressed the opinion to-day that American women are becoming less frivolous and that the former insatiable desire for pleasure and excitement is giving way to the desire for entertainment that is both instructive and pleasant. The baroness is the daughter of Prince Caracciolo, of Rome, and the god-daughter of King Edward VII.

"The general opinion abroad about the American woman," said the baroness, "is that she is intelligent, but not intellectual. It would be a splendid idea, a great blessing, to both America and Europe, if some American women would go over there and lecture and tell us something about the real life in America, especially those among us who are not so fortunate as to be able to come and look for ourselves."

"If some American woman, whose position entitles her to speak about the real American society, would go to Paris and London and talk on the subject of America, she would be a huge success. But, for goodness sake, send us real Americans. When I say send us real Americans, I say so advisedly. A great many of the barbaric impressions we Europeans have about this country have been given us by the detrimental criticisms of Americans themselves."

"Many Americans, especially women, think that they must attack everything that is American and praise all that is foreign as soon as they come to the other side. They think that it proves their culture. They try to create the impression that they are Americans only by name."

"Paris is full of Americans who have a grudge against their country, for some reason or other, and they condemn it whenever they have a chance. They think they make themselves popular in that way, but they only make themselves absurd."

"If I were asked to what the singular prosperity and growing strength of this country ought mainly to be attributed, I should unhesitatingly answer, 'To the superiority of their women.'"

WRONG IMPRESSION ABROAD

Thinks It Should Be Corrected by One Entitled to Speak for Real Society.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
New York, March 16.—The Baroness de Meyer, who is touring the United States with her husband, expressed the opinion to-day that American women are becoming less frivolous and that the former insatiable desire for pleasure and excitement is giving way to the desire for entertainment that is both instructive and pleasant. The baroness is the daughter of Prince Caracciolo, of Rome, and the god-daughter of King Edward VII.

"The general opinion abroad about the American woman," said the baroness, "is that she is intelligent, but not intellectual. It would be a splendid idea, a great blessing, to both America and Europe, if some American women would go over there and lecture and tell us something about the real life in America, especially those among us who are not so fortunate as to be able to come and look for ourselves."

"If some American woman, whose position entitles her to speak about the real American society, would go to Paris and London and talk on the subject of America, she would be a huge success. But, for goodness sake, send us real Americans. When I say send us real Americans, I say so advisedly. A great many of the barbaric impressions we Europeans have about this country have been given us by the detrimental criticisms of Americans themselves."

"Many Americans, especially women, think that they must attack everything that is American and praise all that is foreign as soon as they come to the other side. They think that it proves their culture. They try to create the impression that they are Americans only by name."

"Paris is full of Americans who have a grudge against their country, for some reason or other, and they condemn it whenever they have a chance. They think they make themselves popular in that way, but they only make themselves absurd."

"If I were asked to what the singular prosperity and growing strength of this country ought mainly to be attributed, I should unhesitatingly answer, 'To the superiority of their women.'"

Stiff Neck

For any stiffness or lameness Sloan's Liniment gives relief at once. It acts like massage—quickness the blood and limbers up lame muscles and joints.

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

is good for any kind of pain.

I had a severe pain between my shoulder and neck, and nothing but Sloan's Liniment relieved me. I got a bottle which quickly relieved me.—H. D. BURGOYNE, Mayville, Kentucky.

All dealers. Price 50c, 25c, & 10c.

Dr. Earl S. Sloan - Boston, Mass.

Being a Series of Talks and Topics of Human Interest to Appear March 17, 19, 22 and 26 PERSONALITY.

The trend of present-day business is to specialize. The old idea that people would accept anything is obsolete, and modern hotels must keep pace with the times. Very little can be improved in architectural design or structural beauty of the modern up-to-date hotel, and when figured down to a finite point there is only one thing that makes one hotel different from the other—that is personality.

It seems strange to speak of an hotel having personality, but this very thing is what has placed the Martinique in the position it occupies to-day. Take yourself as an example. You arrive in New York and practically step from the train to your room. There is a feeling of warmth in the surroundings of the Martinique. That underlying tone of "We are mighty glad to see you and what can we do for your comfort?" greets you on every side. But this attention is not foisted upon you; it is there when you want it, but it is not obtrusive. It is personal and sincere, and therein lies the secret of the personality of the Martinique. The employees are all trained in the service; not in a day, or a week, but this has taken years. From the days of the old St. Denis the history of the Martinique is unique. A personal feeling was imbued in the employees then, and they were taught that your comfort is their business.

Another thing: These employees are trained to anticipate your wishes, to know your wants and fancies, and cater to them. In other words, they are taught to be human and not mechanical toys without brains.

These little things all tend to make you feel at home; to make you feel you are not a stranger; that even though you are miles away from home, you receive the same consideration, and your happiness is as much to us, as though you had lived here all your life.

HOTEL MARTINIQUE,
Walter Chandler, Jr., Mgr.,
Broadway, Thirty-second Street to Thirty-third Street, New York.

SUNDAY CLOSING LAW IS ENFORCED

Seven Arrests Made in Norfolk Yesterday for Alleged Violations.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Norfolk, Va., March 16.—Seven arrests were made by the police to-day for alleged violations of the Sunday closing law, as interpreted by City Attorney Cabell last week. Several days ago Chief of Police Kiser sent out warning to more than a hundred merchants who had been keeping their shops open on Sundays, advising them they would be arrested if they did not close. This activity on the part of the police was after the Sunday Law Enforcement League had made specific complaint to the Board of Control and given the names and addresses of the places a special detective had found had regularly been kept open for business on Sundays.

The majority of those arrested to-day are proprietors of small establishments, such as saloons, cigar stores, confectioneries and magazines.

The order issued by the Police Department permits drug stores to keep open and sell anything they have in stock, including cigars and tobacco. Those who sell cigars and newspapers are permitted to sell the newspapers, but not the cigars. All confectionery stores are required to be kept closed all day.

Whiskey, Morphine

Whiskey, Morphine, and other drugs, sold by the Keeley Institute. Write for confidential information.

THE KEELEY INSTITUTE.

Greenboro, North Carolina